Larry,

5/25/64

I don't really know what to say — I could, as usual, cut you down, but if I did I wouldn't really mean it - I never do, actually.

Larry, I am sure that whatever I write will be purely a repeating of what I have said so many times before. All of the times in the past - when we sat down and discussed ourselves and life on earth and beyond; it seems we always wound-up a little sadder because we couldn't obtain what we desired (mostly me) but always a little wiser. Actually, I always told you my problems (sic), and you, like a real doctor, told me how you would cope with them, and it always helped - Thanks. You know, it seems that it was always you and our "talks" that helped me over my many "stumps" - for that I shall never be able to repay you. I suppose that everyone must have someone to turn to and to draw strength & foresight from, if they don't they sink; you ought to be a life-guard.

Buddy, do you realize that we haven't even known another a year yet - it seems that I have known you for the last eighteen years. We really did have a great time at the beach last summer - excluding "Monday night!" Do you recall my "Sortee" - I never did get a date.

You Can't Win Them All!

Larry Roonts

But, of course, we can't forget that wonderful tea + spaghetti - boy, you are really a great cook - EHGE - Then, there was the football + basketball games and all of that. Even if a few of us did get in trouble once or twice, I still enjoyed it. I really do suppose that the climax of it all, though, was the Senia Tour. I shall never forget it + I know that you won't - HA The last four years were great and fast, especially this year. You know, there are truly the best years of our lives. This last year seemed especially so.

What I wouldn't give to have just one more year in good old L.S.H.S. - I know, I'm just a big baby! I shall miss the people of the school - not the school itself.

Larry, in just two days it will be all over and all we will have is a bit of the present and a lot of the uncertain future. I really do hope that you are able to succeed in life - just as you would like to. Best of Luck at U.N.C. next year - I feel sure that you will get along splendidly - I know ya will! I, personally, kinda fear college and its challenges but I am really going to try - I've got to - True, Yes Larry, if there is ever ever any thing that I can do to help you, in any way what-so-ever, just let me know + I will do the best I can to assist you.

You have been the best friend that anyone could ask for; and I regard you as the one who always took time to "listen" - Thank You + May Heaven protect you thru your journey to more uncertain end. A friend always - Sincerely, Stan

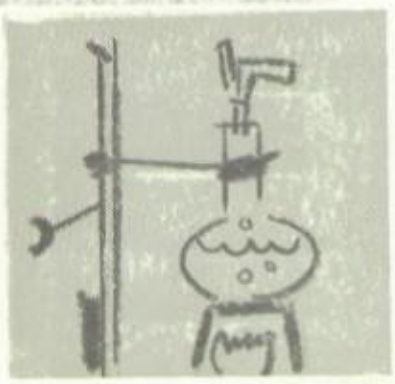
Larry,

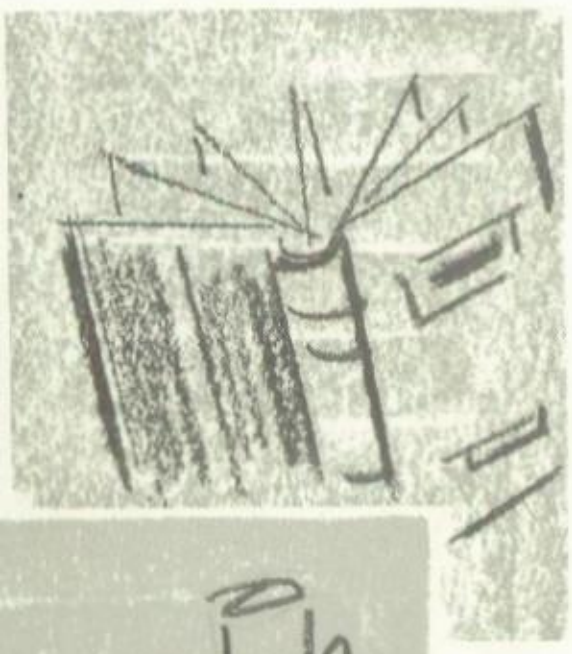
As everyone has said so far. We have finally reached our goal of four years. We have really had fun these last four years. Remember the day we played out of French class. And don't forget the beach with you, Ricky, Ricky & Bill never forget that I almost drown. Then came our Senior year. Football games, pep rallies, Homecoming, then the "Senior Trip". I know Bill never forget that. The three musketeers - you Rip and me. We really had fun. Remember the motel and the Poker game. That tall hill we climbed & "and don't forget my Pizza party". I'm glad you were able to come. And now graduation. I hope that we will see each other this summer. Best wishes to a wonderful friend.

Go Carolina!

Love,

Judy





Larry, I have enjoyed working with you these past four years and I wish for you success and happiness always.

Sincerely,
Greg T. Hussey

NEW FRONTIER

In 1960, the NEW FRONTIER entered Washington, and the class of 1964 entered L.S.H.S. During these past four years, the NEW FRONTIER has faced tragedy and triumph just as we in Lexington have. The Bay of Pigs invasion, the Cuban and Berlin crises, the limited but horrid war in Vietnam, the Thresher tragedy, and the malicious assassination of President John F. Kennedy have been times of national anxiety during the past four years. Likewise, in Lexington there have been events and times we should like to forget. Deaths of fellow students that could so often have been prevented, the shocking death in June, 1963, that put our town on the map as a place of disorder and racial violence, the death of H. C. Philpott, Lt. Governor of North Carolina, and the less important, but still disappointing jousting from No. 1 position in basketball, 1963, and football, 1963, made us realize that life has some sorrows and disappointments. However, there have also been times of happiness during the early sixties. The NEW FRONTIER has brought about a better understanding between EAST and WEST, has safely sent up seven astronauts, effected a Peace Corps to show the world we care, and proved that even when a leader dies, "God reigns, and the government at Washington still lives." In Lexington, we saw our school conquer the majority of its athletic foes, we were No. 1 for a while, a school spirit returned after a prolonged absence, and a man from our town and the father of our school's own Jo was elected to the second highest office in the state. In many ways the past four years have been alike—the same Cold War, the same administration, the same routine for those in L.S.H.S., and locally and nationally, many of the same problems. Nevertheless, each year has had its own separate identity and function. We, the editors of the 1964 LEXICON, feel that the past school year has been the most important of the four. 1964, the year that the NEW FRONTIER must be rejected or re-elected, will be a year that will not only affect the present but also the future. The death of the leader in this country was an astounding and powerful shock, but we can be thankful that the nation still survives and that law and order remains. We must remember the eternal words of the man who gave his life for the principles he believed and the country he loved:

"Let the word go forth from this time and place to friend and foe alike that the torch has been passed to a new generation—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage, and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home, and around the world."

We the students are indeed a part of this new generation, and we must realize, regardless of our personal political beliefs, that there is a new frontier which we must guard—the world of ours—and we shall have to face this world and the unfinished duties of the NEW FRONTIER in the coming years. As John Kennedy said:

"All this will not be finished in the first hundred days. Nor will it be finished in the first thousand days: Nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet. But let us begin."

Let us begin—for the duty is now ours.

Dedication—

Mrs. E. Paul Sink

"Consider that I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning."

Warmth, wisdom, and wit, combined in perfect proportion with a distinctive personality and infinite patience, make a unique teacher. Respecting this delightful combination, we dedicate, with deepest admiration and fondest thanks, this—the 1964 LEXICON—to Mrs. E. Paul Sink.

MRS. E. PAUL SINK

Superintendent

Mr. L. E. Andrews

A man whom all the students admire and respect is Mr. L. E. Andrews, the superintendent of Lexington city schools. Due to his consistently good work for more than twenty-five years, the educational facilities in Lexington have been constantly improved. It is partly through his fine work that we have the opportunity of an excellent education. Because of this work, we may find the frontier easier to conquer; for the secret to the frontier lies in education.

Principal

Mr. C. E. Wike

One of the most familiar figures to students of Lexington Senior High is that of Mr. C. E. Wike, the principal. A capable administrator, Mr. Wike is also a friend to the students and faculty. During his years at L.S.H.S., Mr. Wike has proven his ability and willingness as he has successfully guided our school. It is sometimes difficult to realize all the time, energy, and personal effort which Mr. Wike continuously puts into his role as principal of Lexington Senior High School.

Larry, you are a "fine fellow" to work for. I appreciate very much. I reached your goals by "work" and you have been willing to do your assignments to perfection. Keep your smile, your nice manners, and continue to grow in knowledge each year. I'll miss you. Come to see me. Remember Ft. Worth and the World's Fair. Mrs. Padgett

"WE'RE FROM LEXINGTON,

COULDN'T BE PROUDER!"

CLASSES . . . the reason for the school and the means of our education. One hundred and eighty days a year for four years we walked the too-crowded halls, opened the too-small lockers, and rushed off to the too-short lunch periods. Most of the hours spent at school and in classes belonged to someone besides ourselves, either to a teacher or to an assembly speaker. However, when we did have a moment to ourselves, we talked, laughed, and planned for the future. There were the same faces, the same classes, and the same routine; yet each day was a challenge and a new chance for those who would take it. Instead, most of us spent our time in class longing for the bell to free us, or for an assembly to break the routine. For a long time the world of blackboards, chalk, pen, ink, paper, and books seemed a dull or, at least, placid place. . . . Then one day someone, a wise teacher or friend, helped us to realize that these classes were more than a place of confinement for four years—they were our passports to the future—the NEW FRONTIER—and the passports took us to the places of our own choosing.

CLASSES

Classes

Freshmen

As freshmen we were hesitant to accept our new roles. L.S.H.S. seemed strange and sometimes frightening. We were the "silly freshmen," and the upperclassmen never let us forget it. But we were a part of the school, and as the year passed we became willing and eager to link ourselves with the school and its activities. Loudly we yelled, "We're from Lexington; couldn't be prouder," for we were happy to be a part of the world of Lexington Senior High School.

Sophomores

No longer freshmen and feeling much older than a year ago, we began our sophomore year. Retracing our steps throughout the building that we now considered home, we gazed at the familiar sights and the bewildered, lost freshman. Hours in the biology lab increased our knowledge of the functions of life, and our second contacts of life . . . for we continued to participate in our school's activities.

Classes

Juniors

When we became Juniors, we were given more privileges and more responsibilities. This year was very different and much more exciting than last. . . . We sold during the football games for money for the Junior-Senior, attended the Junior-Senior, wore class rings, and drove cars. Familiar lockers, halls, and faces greeted us, and we greeted the underclassmen with an attitude of friendliness but aloofness . . . for now we were the upperclassmen, and there was only one year left until graduation.

Seniors

The senior year—the final year—and how wonderful it seemed to us. For us it was the last—the last game, the last pep rally, the last Junior-Senior, the last assembly. How proud we were as we came down the aisle for Senior Assembly, the assembly we could now call our own. As we came down that aisle for the last time, we really saw for the first time all that had made up our high school year. We looked back triumphantly, knowing we had conquered the first of many frontiers. But in the final analysis we realized that only a small part of the frontier had been conquered; for throughout life there would be other frontiers to face, and we were still very young.

ORGANIZATIONS—the steady and strong activities of our school life. Year after year the same organizations work and plan to help us, the students. Each separate organization has its own job or function: the Student Council that tries to please all of us and at the same time make wise decisions; the Glee Club that represents us at the musical concerts during the year; the L.S.H.S. marching and concert bands which we take for granted but would miss so much at the pep rallies, the football games, and the parades; the publications of L.S.H.S.—The Lexhipep, LEXICON, and Lexhilit—that relate student activities and work to those in our school and town . . . All of these organizations today are still a vital part of the school. Organizations . . . the places where we receive knowledge and experience that we shall use in that wide frontier, the world.

LEXICON

The largest publication of the school is the LEXICON, the school annual. Although we on the staff have sometimes felt that our jobs were long and tedious, we knew that it was up to us to publish the LEXICON for the students. Once the LEXICONS are presented to the school, the hours we spent in writing copy, drawing up sections, and sorting pictures are forgotten. The reward that we on the staff get is seeing the pleasure that our friends and fellow students get from their LEXICONS.

The Lexhipep

For 41 years the Lexhipep has brought the latest school news and gossip to the students of L.S.H.S. The world of headlines, bylines, and deadlines is very familiar to those on the Lexhipep staff. Without nine months of continual work by those on the staff, we the students would not have the excellent school paper that we have.

Co-Editors

The Lexhilit is Lexington Senior High School's literary magazine. Although this is the first year the Lexhilit has been published, it has been warmly received by the students. Miss Mary Ann Stallings is the advisor, and the co-editors are Connie Beck and Brody Brown. The entire staff has worked hard to create a school publication that not only the school but also the town may be proud of.

American Field Service

A happy laugh, a smile that lights up for the slightest reason, and an unmistakable Argentine accent on otherwise perfect English were the characteristics which Martha Occhi had to help her win many friends in Lexington. Martha came to us from Argentina, and she was one of the most popular exchange students that L.S.H.S. ever had. Because she was willing to participate in anything that we in senior high would, she was quickly accepted as a valuable member of the senior class. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Calhoun with their daughters Jean, Ellen, Susan, and Anne were Martha's host for the year. We shall miss that happy smile when Martha returns home, but we shall never forget it.

hen we first met Truls isen Bastiansen, we oticed his blue eyes, his ark hair, and his spec- cular ski sweater. As the ear progressed, we grew love Truls for his more tangible traits. The warm iendliness, quick wit, and ood naturedness which ruls possessed quickly en- eared him to all of us. ruls was the son of Dr. nd Mrs. Banks Hankins hile he lived in Lexing- n. The Hankins children -Pat, Joe, Gary, and ebe—were Trul's Ameri- n brothers and sisters ho helped him to enjoy s year with us. Those of who have been fortu- ate enough to know Truls ersonally will remember m as an exceptional iend and student from orway. When we in Lex- gton can enjoy the friend- ip of a boy like Truls, e deeply realize the value the American Field ervice.

FEATURES bring the happy spotlights into our school world. The first feature is homecoming, and with it come several memorable events: the pep rally at noon to boost the team and crown the lovely homecoming queen; the colorful parade with the floats, the band, and all the pretty sponsors; the game with all the excitement that special games always have; and the dance where we can enjoy being with our friends and thinking over the events of this past homecoming. When the Tri-Hi-Y has its annual coronation, it is a time of loveliness and make-believe. The land of make-believe seems to come alive, and the girls in long, flowing dresses and the magical decorations add to the illusion. The queens that the seniors pick to represent them at events during the year are honored and admired by all. These girls are our special representatives, and they serve us well by being such lovely ambassadors for us. The Junior-Senior is the final feature of the school year. Again we became enchanted with a dream world of dim lights, soft music, evening dresses, and pretty girls. Nevertheless, we know that features and dreamworks cannot make up our entire lives; for all of life is not lovely and dreamlike, and it is this fact that gives features the specialness they have. Features entice us with their beauty and specialness. We know that there is no frontier to be conquered in features, but these features can show us ways to make our frontiers more pleasant places to live.

Old South

A garden scene true to Old South tradition was the setting for the 1964 Tri-Hi-Y Coronation. The crowning of L.S.H.S.'s royal couple, Doug Pritchard and Kathy Brown, was the highlight of the program. For one brief hour the entire student body was transported into the beautiful world of gracious Southern life.

CLUBS gave us a sense of belonging and a sense of being needed. For our clubs we made money, built homecoming floats, planned assemblies, and paid dues. Soon it became apparent that only through hard work and ardent support could our clubs be successful. In clubs we became better acquainted—we shared our experiences with those who not too long ago had been only nameless faces in the halls. Not common backgrounds or old friendships, but the same interest, made up the memberships in our clubs. Consequently we broadened our outlook and experienced more than we possibly could have without clubs. Yes, we became aware, and this awareness was the most valuable trait that we could obtain—for the frontier is only there for those who are aware of the opportunity and wonder it holds.

Our most active frontier—SPORTS. In the tense moments of the games, we became an integrated part of our school's activities. Wins and losses alike were our personal ones, and it was never "a team" but "our team." The wondrous touchdowns—and there were many this year—never ceased to amaze us; and as our own Y. A. Tittles passed for touchdown after touchdown, we felt proud of the boys playing for us. . . . On the occasion when anger at defeat made us want to find revenge in forms we would soon have regretted, the calm and wise leadership of Coach Mull was a source of unending inspiration. . . . Basketball arrived while we were still discussing football, and Callicut's boys came on strong and sure. We held our breath as L.S.H.S.'s Billy Cunninghams and Frank Christys tossed the ball up into the air and down into the basket. . . . We won this year by two forces—the force of our teams playing and believing that they could win, and the force of our student body cheering the team on to show that we were behind them. It is impossible to say which force had the most influence, for each force depended upon and grew from the other. The SPORTS that we watched or participated in welded us into one large team—the school.

PRESNELL MULL

The L.S.H.S. football coaching staff did an excellent job this year. With the help of head coach Mull and assistant coaches Price and King, L.S.H.S. produced the best team Lexington had seen in several years. At the end of the football season Lexington ranked No. 3 in the Central 4-A Conference. Everyone at L.S.H.S. is proud of the fine record the 1963 Jackets set.

Co-Captains

HARVEY FULBRIGHT, HUGH BINGHAM

Hugh Bingham and Harvey Fulbright, L.S.H.S.'s 1963 football co-captains, led the team very well. Bingham, an end, represented Lexington in the Shrine Bowl. Winning wide acclaim in the conference and in the state for their football performances, Bingham and Fulbright have gained the admiration of all.

ADVERTISEMENTS . . . they mean about the same thing in all the annuals—the end of an annual and the finishing of a school year. These ads help pay for the annual, and they give us space for writing in our annuals. However, these advertisements mean much more than this—they show that the present business leaders have faith in us, the future leaders, and that they are willing to invest in our publication. This shows communication between the older and younger people in our city. The advertisements give us a glimpse of the frontier, the future, and what it holds. . . . We thank those who have given us advertisements, and we hope that their faith in us will not be disappointed. It is up to each of us to keep that faith alive, and if that faith is kept alive, the frontier will be kept the same.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Larry-
I've never had such a wonderful time at the track. I don't know about you, but it was fun being able to talk to a boy and know he understood. You didn't seem to have any problem so I just talked the whole time. Remember the lady that lost her bathing suit? That "Home of the Cement Spraying and Mixing Machine" was the most hillarious thing I've ever seen!! It was wonderful to the least. Probably you wouldn't've had more fun if Shelley had been there but that's the way it goes. I've never laughed so hard in my life.
You're one of the nicest guys I've ever met and it's awfully hard to realize you won't be here next year. I'll miss you Larry. I hope that you'll have a great time in college!! I love you to death Larry. You're the sweetest guy I know.
Be good and think about me, a lonsy junior when you're off at college.
Love ya,
Marie

Larry, Lexington

If all the four fabulous years we have spent slaving away up here in the great institution of learning, I believe that this year has been the best. Everything has been great this year especially the Senior Trip. Your notebook was really great! Congratulations on all of your tremendous accomplishments!!!

Here's wishing you the very best of everything!

"Rest Assured"

Dear Larry,
I have enjoyed consulting and swapping jokes with you this year. I hope you have a great time at U.N.C. Be a good boy! I wish you lots of luck.
Yours truly,
Friend,
Larry Burgin

Larry,
It has been a pleasure knowing you if only for just one year. It was fun this year in the library. Thanks for helping with bulliten boards. Remember the time you and I tried to spell Calliope (see I still can spell it). You are a very handsome, friendly and sweet friend. I wish you much happiness and hope you have a great college life at Carolina. May all your dreams and aspirations be fulfilled.
Sincerely,
Sally

you the best of luck in anything you attempt in the future. May God bless you.

Larry,

Well, it's really hard to believe that we are leaving the hallowed halls of dear old L. S. H. S. To think I've known you since dear old Robbins School. How times (and you) have changed. Remember, when we were freshmen and we teased each other about being conceited? We really have had a few things happen, haven't we? Our freshman year really was a ball. This year, your valuable assistance has really been appreciated in Math and in homeroom. I know that with a mind like yours (yeah!) you shall really succeed (but

I hope that in the years to come we shall see each occasionally. I will miss the fun we've had in Study Hall. Mr. Sink & Mrs. Ivy have let you get away with murder! Well, here's hoping that a cute, talented, considerate (and so forth) boy will go far in life and be a success. I know you will. Go Carolina!

Catherine

Well Larry,

Our final year in high school is just about over and I guess we will be separated next year. We sure have had some great times over the years. Especially this year. The senia trip was the best of all. "T.C." was really good. I hope you get to see that girl you met sometime. You surely did flip over her. I know I will never forget the ride on the bus with my pipe. We surely had some good times down at the lake, too. What time does the sunrise? I will never forget your crackers at four in the morning and all night rook games. I remember round Haloween when Evelyn was snowed on you. What about that barbed wire fence and getting "on the bus?" I want you to know that I really have appreciated all those rides home from school every day. I really value your friendship and I am sorry we won't be together next year. You are really a great guy. I just hope that I can find a friend as good as you have been next year. I have really enjoyed this year with you. Have fun! See you this summer!

A friend forever and a little confused. Sometimes

I want to graduate + other times
I will.... I'm proud for I don't know how many years and back year I did + now and now reasons for liking you. You are really one of the greatest boys I know. I was glad that you were able to be Chad with me. I hope you enjoyed it. I DID!!! High School is almost over - and although it's sad you'll be at CAROLINA next

Finis

All endings are a paradox, for they both stop and begin. This finis marks the end of another LEXICON and the end of another year, but it also points to the future. With the ending of this year, the next year begins.

Before turning to the next year, we the editors of this 1964 LEXICON would like to say "Thank You" to those on this year's staff. The LEXICON could not have been published without the hard work of the following people: the Class Editors, Jane Myers, Byron Burkehart, Jean Calhoun, Ed Zimmerman, Jo Philpott, Dicky Morgan, Betsy Burrell, and Sue Beck; the Sports Editors, Hugh Bingham, Wayne Berrier, and Gordon Wright; the Feature Editor, Judy Mauzé; the Club Editors, Sydney Young and Elaine Hornbuckle; the bookkeepers, Judy Barber and Lynn Elkins; the typist, Betty Hemphill; and the photographers, Mr. Cliff Ingram, Mr. Claude Gentry, and Joe Ingram. Finally, we would like to say a special "Thank You" to the two people who have guided this year's LEXICON from a dream into a reality. Miss Charlotte Matthews who has not only advised but also worked hard on the LEXICON, and Mr. Joseph Phelps of Edwards & Broughton Company who has been both helpful and patient. Their inspiration has been invaluable.

Only endings which come prematurely are sad. The endings which follow completed duties are happy ones. The heinous part of John F. Kennedy's death was that death caught him when he had only started to reach his goals. There was still so much he could give to his young family, his powerful nation, his progressing world. On election eve of November 1960, a young Bostonian addressed a group of people with these words:

"I run for the Presidency of the United States because it is the center of action and, in a free society, the chief responsibility of the President is to set before the American people the unfinished business of our Country."

The young man won the election, and for 2 years, 10 months, and 2 days, John F. Kennedy worked on the unfinished business of his country. Then a rankish bullet shot him down, and the business remained unfinished. The great knowledge, the profound insight, and the deep concern for the nation and the world vanished, leaving the people stunned and bewildered. John F. Kennedy tried to pass on this knowledge, insight and concern for mankind. Whether or not he accomplished this, one cannot tell. Only in the coming years, when we have had the chance to finish the work John F. Kennedy started, will we realize the significance of the ideas and ideals of the 35th President of the United States. Success on the frontier may well depend on how well we can finish the business of the NEW FRONTIER.

Larry,

It sounds trite but I am sincere in saying I've enjoyed your coming to the Library your four years here. You are a fine fellow, with many admirable qualities. And, you are quite a conversationalist!!

I expect you to do well at college. Do come back to see me and "report" on Carolina and yourself.

Best wishes, always,

Louise Sink

Estimable Lorenzo,

Hace cuatro años que tengo mucho gusto en conocerte y espero que haya muchos años más de tu amistad. Eres un joven inteligente, simpático y cortés. Creo que tendrás lo mejor en toda tu vida porque eres un caballero sincero.

Mucha suerte en tus asignaturas en U.N.C. Y no olvides a tu profesora de español en la secundaria.

Con mucho respeto y cariño, quedo como siempre

Larry,

I really don't know where to begin. It's really been a great year for me and I hope for you. We've had a lot of good times together. (Some I won't mention.)

I'd like to apologize about Karen's Slumber party. I'm glad you could get the knee of your pants fixed. Sorry about my braces too!

That was just one of the first times we were together. There were many more I could never forget. The Halloween party, the hair spray, homecoming, the football game, M.Y.F and of course, the fort... what did you say about the barbed wire fence? - (oh yeah - all them GANG BANGS)

Larry, you are one of the finest boys I've ever met. You always succeed in any goal you aim for. I hope that when you get to Carolina you won't forget me. Please write!!

I hope we can get together alot more this summer. If you're ever down at the lake, come see me. We can really raise it!!

I can think of a million more things I'd like to say, but I don't want to fill up your annual with a lot of bull!!

Be Good and remember me,

Love Always,
Evelyn "Biggie"

OX

Larry,

Well, it's hard to believe that you'll be going off to college and I'll be a Senior next year. This year has really flown fast and I can't believe it's almost over. You know something? I think every year I live gets better and better. I don't know what I would have done without you in library. You have really been an inspiration to me this year. And to everyone else, no doubt. You are so easy to talk to and so very understanding. Thank you for putting up with me and my problems. I don't think I'll be having any more problems so if you ever need to talk to someone just call me.

It's funny how much people change, isn't it. I remember when you and I were in Jr. High. You were the cute little squirt (all Jr. High kids are) that went steady with every girl you could find. Not too unusual, but for only 1 minute, that's plumb unheard of. I don't know exactly what I was like. I think I was mostly scared and skinny. I'm not scared anymore but I sure am skinny.

Seriously, Larry, I've never ever known a boy quite like you before. I believe that whatever you set your mind to do, you'll do it. Don't ever lose that warm friendliness and thoughtfulness. Because if you do, you'll lose yourself like I almost did. Thank you for helping me find myself. It's really wonderful to know who you are. I'll never forget you, not ever.

With love, your friend,
Libby

E.C.F.

P.S. Good luck at college and may God bless you. I'll write and tell you about school. Come and see me when you get to come home.

Larry -

You know we've really had some good times together since last year when we were out for tennis. That's when we got better acquainted and became good friends. Remember all the times we talked when I was dating Judy? We became close friends then. Remember all the fun we had working on the Jr.-Sr., all the nights just goofing around, that night at the lake over Easter? We've really spend a lot of time together; you know it? Its too bad we'll be split up next year. Will have to get together on week-ends when we're home from college at the same time.

I want to thank you for all the times you said the right things when I was worried about Lynn. It really helped. I wish you the very best of luck in the years to come.

a kind farewell,

Larry,

We've finally made it. This year has really gone! Our friendship began in Johnny's room, but let's not let it end there, although I did enjoy it this year. I don't know what I would have done without you in there. I shall never forget Cecil and your kicking my desk. English hasn't been too bad this year. Remember the swimming episode last summer. That was funny! Everytime I go by I think of that. I have to include the bedroom incident. (It's not as ~~bad~~ bad as it seems.) Everytime I mention your name my mother says something about that. Tanglewood was a lot of fun, especially the canoe. The only thing missing was the moon.

Seriously, I have enjoyed the past four years more because of your friendship. However, our friendship may be only beginning. We have the next four years at dear ole Carolina together. I hope I shall not get homesick and I know your presence will help that. I think Carolina will be loads of fun; however, the work will be difficult. I hope you still will be your own sweet self and that those "Carolina Men" will not influence you. (Ha!) Above all, Larry, Please never start drinking! At Carolina you will have every opportunity. Larry, you are a truly wonderful person in every possible way. Your personality cannot be surpassed. You have great ability, and I know you will go far in life, no matter what profession you choose. Above all, follow your moral principles!

May God give you his richest blessings

Love,
Betty
